Who We Are

About Collaborating Across Borders

Collaborating Across Borders (CAB) is the premier North American conference focused on interprofessional education and collaborative healthcare. The CAB Conference was first launched in 2007 as a venue where educators, clinicians, researchers, policy makers, patients/family partners and students from both sides of the Canada-US border could engage in rich productive dialogue. The conference has expanded to a global audience in the last 15 years.

The eighth Collaborating Across Borders (CAB VIII) conference will be held virtually from May 15 – 18, 2023. CABVIII is hosted by the University of Toronto's Centre for Advancing Collaborative Healthcare and Education (CACHE) in collaboration with the Canadian Interprofessional Health Collaborative (CIHC) and the American Interprofessional Health Collaborative (AIHC). The theme of the conference is Hope and Trust in Health and Social Care. CAB VIII continues the tradition of focusing on advances in interprofessional practice and education, research and innovation, and policy, systems and leadership with a newly added francophone stream.

The event, sponsored every two years by the American Interprofessional Health Collaborative (AIHC) and the Canadian Interprofessional Health Collaborative (CIHC), links Canada and the United States around the key themes of interprofessional education and practice, and collaboration with an academic organization.

About the American Interprofessional Health Collaborative

As the professional community of the National Center for Interprofessional Practice and Education, AIHC contributes to better health and improved outcomes by redesigning how the health care workforce is prepared and how care is organized and delivered. AIHC members work locally, nationally and internationally to influence policy, develop and share best practices and resources, conduct research, mentor and support colleagues and remove barriers to effective action.

About the Canadian Interprofessional Health Collaborative

The Canadian Interprofessional Health Collaborative (CIHC) is made up of health organizations, health educators, researchers, health professionals, and students from across Canada. The Canadian Interprofessional Health Collaborative (CIHC) has been working for more than a decade to strengthen the knowledge base and practice for collaborative, patient-centred practice. The CIHC will be a strong, cohesive voice to amplify and influence a national and global conversation that interprofessional collaborative practices are an essential element of health leadership, workforce strength and resilience, good health outcomes and fiscal accountability.

About the Centre for Advancing Collaborative Healthcare & Education

The Centre for Advancing Collaborative Healthcare & Education (CACHE) is honoured to host CAB VIII. CACHE is a global leader and innovator in IPE across the continuum of learning. Learners range from over 4,200 pre-entry-to-practice students annually in academic programs, to clinicians, educators, and leaders in workplace environments, including over 4000 alumni from our professional/faculty development programs. In more recent years, the Centre has fortified its research and innovation infrastructure, and is now poised to collaboratively lead the way in advancing collaborative healthcare and education systems toward a healthier world. CACHE is a strategic partnership between the University of Toronto and the Toronto Academic Health Science Network with the University Health Network as lead hospital.

Conference Streams

Broad themes have been chosen for CAB VIII in order to encourage a wide range of abstracts with the focus on improving health outcomes. Abstracts will represent research and/or demonstrations to advance the fields of interprofessional education (IPE) and collaborative practice and be consistent with the overarching conference theme of Exploring New Heights. We welcome submissions from all levels and types of learners and practitioners, researchers and policymakers, patients, family members, and community representatives; and we welcome abstracts relating to work encompassing one or more of those categories.

Virtual Platform

zoom events

Zoom Events is an all-in-one virtual event platform that uses the power of existing Zoom products to produce interactive and engaging virtual experiences. It combines Zoom Meetings, Chat, and Video Webinars in one solution that enables event organizers to produce ticketed, live events for internal or external audiences of any size.

Expo is a feature in the Zoom Events product that allows event organizers to set up a virtual exhibition that connects attendees with other exhibitors and booths to discover more about their products and services.

Attendees can virtually explore and network, just as they would in person, on the Expo floor. On the Expo floor, you can enter a product booth, network with exhibitors, and interact with other attendees.

The screenshot displays the Zoom Events interface for a 'Business Summit 2021' event. At the top, it shows the dates 'SEP 14-16' and the event title. Below this, a navigation menu includes 'Home', 'Sessions', 'Itinerary', and 'Sponsors'. The main content area features a large video player for the 'Opening Keynote' by Eric Yuan, which is currently 'In progress' from 8:00 to 9:30 AM. To the right of the main video are several smaller video thumbnails showing other event content. Below the main video, a 'Starting Soon' section lists three upcoming sessions: 'How to Design Environments That Optimize Blended Learning' (10:00-10:45 AM), 'Press and Industry Analyst Briefing: Q&A with Zoom Exec...' (10:00-10:45 AM), and another 'How to Design Environments' session (12:00-12:45 PM). Each session card includes a 'Join' button and a small thumbnail image. On the right side of the interface, a chat window for 'Business Summit 2021' is open, showing a conversation between attendees. The chat messages include: 'Chris Costi: Hey, anyone joining from San Jose, California? It's freezing today!', 'Eva Everson: Gosh tell me about it', 'You: I'm from Santa Clara! Seriously, my cats were super cuddly today.', 'Chris Costi: @Chris, get some cats!', 'Helene Bumbalo: I'm from LA and it's cold enough', and 'Mindy LeVeque: In your opinion, what's hottest in the security field today?'.
