THE SAFETY DEBRIS PODCAST

Tanya is a professional trainer, safety advisor, and co-host of the Safety Debris podcast. She has received various awards and recognition such as: Professional Leadership Award for Women and an Educational Leadership Award. Over the years, she has gained many designations including: CSO(R), NCSO, CHSC, CSP.

She is an expert in Joint Health & Safety Committee training, educating, and rejuvenating company meetings to make them more effective, fun & collaborative. I would like to commend the EOCP office staff for a great job with the conference. It was very informative and well planned.
